Player

When you're down and confused
And you don't know what to do
Do you turn to a friend
And it's really up to you

You are the master of your destiny
Be anything that you want to
Listen to your heart and if your heart is true
The answer lies with you

Live for today
And remember that where there's a will, there's a way
If you try, there's a chance
If you're feeling the music, then come on and join in the dance

When you're lost in the dark
And there's no escape in sight
Do you lose your control
Instead of searching for the light?

You are the master of your destiny
Be anything that you want to

Listen to your heart and if your heart is true
The answer lies with you

Live for today
And remember that where there's a will, there's a way
If you try, there's a chance
If you're feeling the music, then come on and join in the dance

Live for today
And remember that where there's a will, there's a way
If you try, there's a chance
If you're feeling the music, then come on and join in the dance

Live for today
And remember that where there's a will, there's a way
If you try, there's a chance
If you're feeling the music, then come on and join in the dance
