

Changes

Pleasure P

You're changing
You're changing

Why do I feel so lonely?
Even though you're laying beside me
Holding me
A part of you isn't there
And I can't sleep knowing that there's something so different
There's something you're not saying
Shorty I'm scared

Cause I deserve to be cheated on
I deserve to be left alone
I can't believe you love me like that
Cause every time that I did you wrong
You let me come back home
And I can't understand why you gave me those

Chances, chances
Gave me so many of them
And I took advantage of them
Now I'm going through
Changes, changes
But I'm not ready for them
So girl don't tell me it's the end of us
These changes, these changes
They're breaking my heart
They're breaking my heart
They're breaking my heart

And now my conscience is killing me
Before I was afraid of you leaving
Now I think that you're cheating
I can see all the signs
It's breaking me apart to know that you've been lying
Right to my face girl
I can read in-between the lines

Cause I deserve to be cheated on
I deserve to be left alone
And I can't believe you love me like that
Cause every time that I did you wrong
You let me come back home
I can't understand why you gave me those

Chances, chances
Gave me so many of them
And I took advantage of them
Now I'm going through
Changes, changes
So girl don't tell me it's the end of us

I got this paranoid feeling that I can't avoid
You say I'm tripping
But I think you're pushing me away
I'm so sorry for all the wrong I've done before

I wish that our love would stay the same
Why'd you give me those

Chances, chances
And I took advantage of them now
Changes (you've changed)
Changes (you've changed)
You've changed
Changes, changes...
