

Hopefully

Plug in Stereo

Hopefully one day I'll look back at life and smile
'Cause I've been makin' weird decisions for a while I'm almost an adult but I've been acting like a child
And I need something soon to know it's all worth while

Hopefully one day I'll look back at life to see that I've fulfilled my hopes and dreams
'Cause when my days are done and it's time to go to sleep
I hope that I had fun so I can die happy.

I try so hard to make the right decisions
They tried to help me but no I never listened
I'm to damn stubborn and I'll live by my own plan
So now they got me wishin'

Hopefully one day I'll get away from this old town
And finally see what this world is all about
I feel like I'm stuck and I just can't get out
So I'll just look for hope to get rid of all this doubt

There's not much that I can do
But hope to make it through

I try so hard to make the right decisions
They tried to help me but no I never listened
I'm to damn stubborn and I'll live by my own plan
So now they got me wishin'
