

It Seems Like

Plug in Stereo

It seems like we started on the wrong foot (on the wrong foot)
Take a step back and look at the disasterpiece we made
Imagine the time that we could have saved.
(Okay) It seems like you pushed me away
And if I had my chance to say, I was blown away.
But you don't even care about the words
you'll have to face one day.
So remember the three words you wrote on my hand.
Oh, I don't believe that you were ready for me.
So hold until you can't anymore
you'll see that we were perfect.
Oh, I don't believe that you were ready for me.
So hold until you can't anymore
you'll see that we were perfect.
And could you please stop believing everything you that hear?
A gossip queen is only happy when all of her friends are near.
So why can't you just trust me for once and put your fingers before i'm done?
It seems like we started before we had the green light that lead us to where we parted.
So remember the three words you wrote on my hand.
Oh, I don't believe that you were ready for me.
So hold until you can't anymore
you'll see that we were perfect.
Oh, I don't believe that you were ready for me.
So hold until you can't anymore
you'll see that we were perfect.
