Standing in the doorway Of my life in this house Trying to find a way to get out Looking for a sign That I should open the door This craziness is getting me down But today is the day We break free Walking down the stairway To the traffic below Anything could happen I know But I'm sick of everybody Telling me what to do I hear you Hey but I already know And today is the day We break free It's clear in my mind After all of this time What I feel my love There are so many times That the sun doesn't shine But I'm here my love And today is the day Maybe I should wait Just a minute or two It's getting cold now I feel so insecure The future is a mistress That is so hard to please And the past Is a pebble in my shoe
