

Stay Forever

Poets of the Fall

Morning comes slow today, ah-ah
Memories push through from yesterday
Where will I be tomorrow?
What do I have to show?

From my life, oh-whoa

Stay, I need you here for a new day to break
Stay, I want you near, like a shadow in my wake, oh

Flow with life down the drain, ah-ah
Memories and force of will sustain
Where will I be tomorrow?
What will be left to show?

From my life, oh-whoa

Stay, I need you here for a new day to break
Stay, I want you near, like a shadow in my wake, oh

Well, it's the little things, baby
The little things, together we can go and take on the world
It's the little things, darling, yeah
The little things, yeah yeah yeah yeah yeah

It's the little things, the little things, the little things th at make the world
Yeah, the little things, the little things, the little things th
at make the world
It's the little things, the little things, the little things th
at make the world
It's the little things, the little things, the little things

Stay, I need you here for a new day to break
Stay, I want you near, like a shadow in my wake, oh

So don't you ever leave me
