

Be The Same

Point North

Yeah, the morning sun came again
Just like it always did
Just like it always sets (Come on)
Oh, I need some more control
From the side of me that shows
The side I've come to know

So strip me of all the logical parts that we've
Grown to love and were always a part of me
I wonder who we could become

I'm so far away
Feel trapped under by this weight
Reaching for a change
I don't want to be the same
Outcast from the world
Detached and I left it all
Behind and that's okay
Cause I don't want to be the same

Yeah, I'm like a broken record
The one you haven't heard
Cause there's a silence in my words
No I'm not what's on the surface
No metal plated armor
No I'm just not the same person

So strip me of all the logical parts that we've
Grown to love and were always a part of me
I wonder who we could become

I'm so far away
Feel trapped under by this weight
Reaching for a change
I don't want to be the same
Outcast from the world
Detached and I left it all
Behind and that's okay
Cause I don't want to be the same

No I don't want to be the same

So strip me of all the logical parts that we've
Grown to love and were always a part of me
You're always a part of me

I'm so far away
Feel trapped under by this weight
Reaching for a change
I don't want to be the same

I'm so far away
Feel trapped under by this weight
Reaching for a change
I don't want to be the same
Outcast from the world
Detached and I left it all

Behind and that's okay
Cause I don't want to be the same

No I don't want to be the same