

Distant

Point North

You know that Imma miss you so bad
I'm leaving but I ain't sad
You tell me it'll go fast
And you'll be here when I get back

But what if it's the last time, the last night
We say goodbye
I can't fight the panic
If I'm fine, then why do I say?
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore, yeah

If I should never leave just tell me
And you can find me back on my street
'Cause I know that you'll be lonely
And I don't like when you're without me

'Cause what if this the last time, the last night
We say goodbye
I can't fight the panic
If I'm fine then why do I say?
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore, yeah
'Cause lately, I'm feeling like I need you and me to hang around
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore

'Cause I don't wanna see a sunrise
On the East Coast this time
And I don't wanna make this three night drive
Just so I could see that you're alright
I swear this doesn't feel real, is this even real?
If the only thing I feel doesn't ever heal
Now I'm fucking homesick, tell me that I don't quit
And I'll believe it if you say we'll make it, yeah

I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore
'Cause lately I'm feeling like I need
You and me to hang around
I never wanna leave my home anymore, home anymore
