

Lethal

Point North

Oh, baby, no one saw you running
How you give me all your time
I should have said something
Like yours is worth much more than mine
And all I'm afraid of is ticking like a time bomb, oh
And every second is a waste when it blows up in your face (blows)

(Still ticking like a time bomb)

Get up, get out
It's too late for me now
I'll drag you down
With me below the ground
So just save yourself
You know I'm lethal
No good for other people
'Cause everything that I know
Seems to always let go
I'm on the fast track to never win my life back
You know I'm fatal, poisonous to the bone
So go get your life back

You could be somebody that I don't know now
And maybe one of these days you'll see me around (around)
And if you wanna scream at me and talk me off
Fucking do it, oh
Just what I saved you from
You'll never understand it
I know the outcome
And I won't let you have it
I know you can't imagine when the worst is yet to happen (happen, happen, ha ppen)

(Still ticking like a time bomb)

Get up, get out
It's too late for me now
I'll drag you down
With me below the ground
So just save yourself
You know I'm lethal
No good for other people
'Cause everything that I know
Seems to always let go
I'm on the fast track to never win my life back
You know I'm fatal, poisonous to the bone
So go get your life back

Maybe I need someone to remind me
That there's good inside me
And it's worth the fight
Maybe I need someone to remind me
To put the past behind me
That it don't define me
No, it don't define me, yeah
No, it don't define me, yeah

GET UP

Get up, get out
It's too late for me now
I'll drag you down
With me below the ground
So just save yourself
You know I'm lethal
No good for other people
'Cause everything that I know
Seems to always let go
I'm on the fast track to never win my life back
You know I'm fatal, poisonous to the bone
So go get your life back