Prepare For Despair

Point North

Pulling up my body in the sky
Flying through the tunnel of the light
This is not an ordinary night
This is how I'm probably gonna die

Are they looking for a friend or an enemy
I don't think they're gonna find what they really need

Are they waiting on the world to turn a blind eye
Or maybe someone's throwing us a lifeline

Can you save us from the cancer we've become
Will you change us or will the pieces come undone

We never learned
Watched it burn
So tell us what we're worth
We're cursed, disturbed
So welcome to Earth

There's nothing here that you would ever want
'Cause everything you need is fucking gone
I hope you plan on taking us back
Taking us back
Before we're all under attack
Under attack
Come on

So give us a funeral
Business as usual
Everyone's terminal
Isn't it beautiful
So fly us away
From the hell that we face
Yeah help is on the way

Can you save us from the cancer we've become
Will you change us or will the pieces come undone

We never learned
Watched it burn
So tell us what we're worth
We're cursed, disturbed
So welcome

It's the end of human race
Throw us all out into space
You could fix the mess we made
Take us somewhere else that's safe

If we got a second chance
Maybe things won't be so bad
Passed the point of no return
So you'll have to kill us first

Can you save us from the cancer we've become
Will you change us or will the pieces come undone

Coming undone

We never learned
Watched it burn
So tell us what we're worth
We're cursed, disturbed
So welcome to Earth
