

Avalanche

Polly Scattergood

Babe, put your raincoat on
We'll take a drive till dawn
Or until we have to stop
Until we both give up

By now, we know morning comes
Without any bells or drums
Just fragments that fade away
And turn into yesterday

Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche
Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche

Maybe we just dreamed a dream
But I dare not do that any longer
Sometimes you just live and learn
Sometimes there just are no words

But it was a long goodbye
The emptiness multiplied in seconds
And shifted to ifs and whys
Peacefully paralyzed

Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche
Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche

Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche
Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche

Tender is the love
Tender is the loss
Tender is the avalanche
