

High-Wire Moves

Polvo

Register shadows like the (?)
Never forget the way the cold floor burns
Working for (?)
Never forget the way the acrobat learns

There was a time I thought you would
It was a fantasy that wasn't meant to be
There was a time I thought you could Become the enemy

Bring me back again from a diplomat
Tell me what it is and I will change it back
I know you're not a diplomat
You're just an acrobat practicing high-wire moves
Practicing high-wire moves

I'll be the jumble of all you control
Don't stop until the chalk's all gone
If I believe your inventions are halfway true
Will you relate when I'm struggling too

But why I should care when you think that the voice I chase
Is nothing special in the first place
Picture a barbed wire bridge and a roach if you dare

I'll meet you halfway there
Just 'cause I'm halfway there
