

Filler

Pond

time on skin seems there's really nothing you can do never win all comes down to angels come to view ease the pain ease the pain but still I wonder why what's to gain I have callused thick just to go and die building up silence in the walls pushes the seams wished it stop constant buzz to sleep till I dream blue green and everything...

I don't know but I can't see it

I don't know you half she said but I'll tell you baby you'll never find the one
