

Favorite Human

Poo Bear

I walked away in torrential rain, yeah
Meandering, do once like in terrain
Locking skies, suppress the moonbeams, yeah
I'm drowning in unrealized dreams

What woulda happened if you were never born?
I crave myself from running big time
But the first breath that filled into your lungs
Whole new life in me simultaneously sprung

A river of hope, I've watched you brighten
Till the person that you become, my life, my lantern
And on that day the shadows worsen, oh
Critically acclaimed, my favorite human

My favorite human
My favorite human
My favorite human
My favorite human

We linking thoughts, mind and spirit, oh
Even as I felt that thing I'm feeling
With every step taken in a blind trance
A momentary breach to a woeful existence

What woulda happened if you were never born?
I crave myself from running big time
But the first breath that filled into your lungs
Whole new life in me simultaneously sprung

A river of hope, I've watched you brighten (oh, I watched you b righten)
Till the person that you become, my life, my lantern
And on that day the shadows worsen, oh
Critically acclaimed, my favorite human
