

Dead Reckoning

Pop Evil

I gave up everything
With both my feet in the grave
Somehow I found my strength
Before my soul had decayed
Redemption called my name
But it was screaming in vain
Now all that's left inside these walls is blood

Blood has stained
Now all that's left inside these walls is blood
Blood on my face

I'm running through hell
I'm running through sorrow
I see the light in the distance
I will prevail the darkest tomorrow
There's no turning back for me
Dead reckoning

My shame was crushing me
Poisoned reality
Buried under the weight with a couple grenades
But now there's blood on my face
I'm rising from the fall
Breaking down every wall
Now there's nowhere to hide
Better ring the alarm

I'm running through hell
I'm running through sorrow
I see the light in the distance
I will prevail the darkest tomorrow
There's no turning back for me
I'm running through hell
I'm running through sorrow
I see the light in the distance
I will prevail the darkest tomorrow
There's no turning back for me
Dead reckoning

Staring destiny in the face
Making sure it remembers my name

You will not destroy me
Dead reckoning

Through the blood, the sweat, the sacrifice
I'll break through the wall no matter the price
Through the pain, the hurt, the heartache
Tearing down the sky my soul to retake
