

crystallized

Poppy

I've never been too good at love
But I'll wring my eyes dry
'Cause if I never get back up
I'll regret what wasn't mine

I'm predisposed, to feeling low
To feeling lost, uncomfortable
You got a subtle glow, ethereal
You got me in a state of mind

Maybe it's a heaven sign
Let the angel's fate decide
'Cause my heart is full of diamonds
Maybe it was perfect timed
All my tears have crystallized
And I'll never be alone again

Well maybe this is growing up
'Cause I don't wanna die (I don't wanna die)
Remember I was sad before
Now I don't remember why (Don't remember why)

I'm predisposed, to feeling low
To feeling lost, uncomfortable
You got a subtle glow, ethereal
You got me in a state of mind

Maybe it's a heaven sign
Let the angel's fate decide
'Cause my heart is full of diamonds
Maybe it was perfect timed
All my tears have crystallized
And I'll never be alone again
Again, again, again
Again, again, again
Maybe it was perfect timed
All my tears have crystallized
And I'll never be alone again

I was talking to kitty
Seldom, broken and bored
I was praying to God make me happy
I wanna be adored
Heard his voice on the speakers
I knew he was my cure
It was then I swore I'd never Never, never be alone again

Maybe it's a heaven sign
Let the angel's fate decide
'Cause my heart is full of diamonds
Maybe it was perfect timed
All my tears have crystallized
And I'll never be alone again

Again, again, again, again, again, again, oh
Maybe it was perfect timed, all my tears have crystallized

And I'll never be alone again
