

Linger

Poppy

On a night like tonight
We see stars in the sky
And they die
Big black holes
Something shapeshiftin' deep in your mind
Deep in your mind
Like the tides to the moon
Yeah, I'm risin' to you
In the church of your room
But it's gone, it's gone forever this time
It's gone forever this time

You can tell me that it's human nature
To be too interlaced with danger
Were you always a stranger?
Was ours always a strange love?

At the night's edge, you know that I'll follow
Anywhere your blood flows red, I'll make you just like me
And you let it linger, linger, linger
At the night's edge, you know that I'll follow
Anywhere your blood flows red, I'll show you who to be
And you let it linger, linger, linger
Over me

In the whites of your eyes
I can see my next life
Smell the lilies at night
Tell me what you will remember me by
I don't care if you lie

You can tell me that it's human nature
To be too interlaced with danger
Were you always a stranger?
Was ours always a strange love?

At the night's edge, you know that I'll follow
Anywhere your blood flows red, I'll make you just like me
And you let it linger, linger, linger

At the night's edge, you know that I'll follow
Anywhere your blood flows red, I'll make you just like me
And you let it linger, linger, linger
At the night's edge, you know that I'll follow
Anywhere your blood flows red, I'll show you who to be
And you let it linger, linger, linger
Over me
