

Who Knows Right From Wrong

Porter Wagoner

Nothing is colder than a heart that's gone wrong
For when you love someone who knows right from wrong
I once had a sweetheart that I loved more than life
But another man won her and made her his wife

But I could not condemn her or accuse him alone
For two hearts are happy, who knows right from wrong
Nothing is colder than a heart that's gone wrong
For when you love someone who knows right from wrong

True love is a treasure more precious than gold
And the comfort it brings us can't be bought or sold
To steal someone's treasure, we are taught it's wrong
When your heart preaches who knows right from wrong

Nothing is colder than a heart that's gone wrong
For when you love someone who knows right from wrong
