

Schedule

Post Animal

Waking up, different from getting up
A plane to Chicago was proof enough
That I should just blindly trust within the universe
You showed me, it is real
You made a change I will never forget
Now I wish I could show you everything it meant
Even if I would try, don't know where I'd begin
Whatever it is I don't understand

I'll never know what you go through
But I'd do it all again with you
With a life that feels it's always on the go
I just wanted you to know

That's okay

Now it's harder to enjoy the view
Feels like I stole it all away from you
It makes me hate myself and what I do
But deep inside I know that's not quite true
Now I'm back all alone in the van
I'm crying 'cause I know I'm doing all I can
Maybe it's something else, something out of my hands
However it is, I don't understand

I'll never know what you go through
But I'd do it all again with you
With a life that feels it's always on the go
I just wanted you to know

Baby, if you need me I can fit you in my schedule
Baby, when I need you can you fit me in your schedule?
Baby, if you need me I can fit you in my schedule
Baby, when I need you can you fit me in your schedule?

It gets cold at night, cold at night, cold as snow
It gets cold at night, cold at night, cold as snow
It gets cold at night, cold at night, cold as snow
It gets cold at night, cold at night, cold as snow
It gets cold
