

You Know Better

Post Animal

Felt your heart stop beating, tracked your phone
Good to share when you feel alone
Got at least one month and your friends always say
Your money's always melting through your pocket anyway
Saw the post about a thing tonight
Black shirt on and it fits just right
You're like a candle burning at both ends
This place ain't perfect but you don't wanna burn it down

You know better
You know better

You were the rainbow cloud the light looked strange
This song's about how it always restrains what you go
Forgot to talk in the part where I said your name
You want something to smoke, it'll get you out ahead

You know better
You know better
You know better

You got a cistern knowing it's too much
Bombay and you fill your cup
If it's sinking, you could use a night
Coming here thinking maybe you're lying down
Pull out your phone, it's late but room's too bright
Black sheets on, that don't look right
You leave a candle burning by your head
Fall asleep thinking 'bout all the nights we got ahead

You know better
You know better
You know better
