Broken Soul (Breaking Bread)

Pouya

Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes
Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes
Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes
Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes

Baby Bone so overrated, the latest statement
Okay, bitch, give me that Famous Amos
Looking at me like I was a mistake
Sometimes, all I need is a break
Hoping the blues don't come my way
Hoping my enemies stay away
But I know one day, we gon' have to face
I gotta keep it on my waist side
I'm living underwater by the Bayside
Ho, throw your hands up for the 305
Get high under neon lights, we'll be alright
One day, will we say to ourselves
I feel that pressure, that weight on myself
As I'm running away from the feelings I felt Numb my face with the drugs I'm taking
Take me away from the pain today
Don't play with the AK spray
Somebody gon' lay down
Somebody mama gon' cry now
I swear to God, it won't be mine
I got killers that sit on the o-line
Ready for war, I'm Genghis Khan
Strapped up like a dyke, turned on
When the lights turn off, yuh

Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes
Pushin' all your lovers far away, hopin' the end be close
Loneliness is what holds you and that's how it forever goes
