

Awake

Powderfinger

Here they come alone
One by one walking in
Dominos tumble forward
But why would i believe in you when lying is all you ever do?
There they go soft and low
Singing "Ebb and flow underwater"
But why whenever I call on you
Is crying all you ever do?

I'm awake in the flying dream
Higher than I've ever been
And I'm way past spinning in the heart of a hurricane
And getting spun out again

But why would I believe in you when lying is all you ever do?
I'm awake in the flying dream
Higher than I've ever been
And I'm way past spinning in the heart of a hurricane
And getting spun out again
I'm awake hearing what you said
Fwlling in around my head
And I'm way past spinning in the heart of a hurricane
And getting spun out again

I still get pleasure
And relieve your pain
Sweep you up and carry you away
