

All Again

Powfu

Tell me was it all ever worth it
Can you tell what was running through your head
You broke my heart tore me into pieces
And I'll do it all again

We burn like matches far too fast
I'm so naive to think we'd last
I'm singing all these love songs
Baby it's useless
But I'll do it all again
(I'll do it all again)

We've run into stumbling
We always fall apart
Somehow we mess up
Wish we could skip that part
Someone or something
I cannot stop its over too fast
(Yeah)

I'm missing all our nights under bright blue stars
Stop telling me you're fine when the times get hard
You can tear me down
Or burn my heart
But I'll do it all again

Tell me was it all ever worth it
Can you tell me what was running through your head
You broke my heart tore me into pieces
But I'll do it all again
(I'll do it all again)

We burn like matches far too fast
I'm so naive to think we'd last
I'm singing all these love songs
Baby it's useless
But I'll do it all again

Tell me was it all ever worth it
Can you tell me what was running through your head
You broke my heart tore me into pieces
But I'll do it all again

We burn like matches far too fast
I'm so naive to think we'd last
I'm singing all these love songs
Baby it's useless
But I'll do it all again
