

Good For Nothing

Powfu

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something
It's your fault that you hate me now
I told you that I'm good for nothing

I been good for nothing for too long
I say its bout time I get a move on
Tried to hide my heart but you stole it
You saw all the signs, but you dove in
Saw your eyes and I knew that I'm in trouble
Talked that night and I couldn't jump the puddle
Started off fine until you got to know me
Wasted my time, guess I'm meant to be lonely
Meant to be lonely
Guess I'm meant to be lonely
Guess I'm meant to be lonely

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something
It's your fault that you hate me now
I told you that I'm good for nothing

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something
It's your fault that this turned out bad
I told you that I'm good for nothing

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's my fault that you turned out sad
Lost a fight get close to loving
I'm a joke I hope you know that

As she comes to my mind
When I look at my
The screen in the night
Start to down another bottle

And she underestimates the power of the pesticide
Fix the homicide of all the flies and moths and things alive
Fuck the evidence its evident that everything collides
I have more to say but I can never find the fucking time

Times feels frozen high emotion
Lying here with you

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something
It's your fault that you hate me now
I told you that I'm good for nothing

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something
It's your fault that you hate me now
I told you that I'm good for nothing

It's your fault that this turned out bad
It's your fault that you thought we had something

It's your fault that this turned out bad
I told you that I'm good for nothing
