

NO REMEDY!

Presence

Aye, aye, aye, aye, aye
Aye, aye, aye, aye, aye
Aye, aye, aye, aye, aye
Aye, aye, aye, aye, aye

All the voices in my head never letting me rest
And I've been tryna let 'em go they're going straight to my chest
I'm either hanging on the edge or I'm feeling depressed
And I can't help myself from thinking this as good as gets
It's tearing me up
And wearing me down inside
I got amnesia
And forgot how to live my life
I believed you
When you told me that you would change
But I won't leave ya
When you go off and do the same

I'm dying
I'm trying
To push through but I'm
Six feet feet underneath
I'm lying
Denying
These walls don't give me room to breathe

They're closing in on me
I'm sinking through the floor
I wish that you could see
How far that I would go

I'ma give you my all
But I know you won't change (go)
How many times do you gotta see tears on my face? (Go)
I'm drowning, I can't hold both of our weight (go)
Stop telling me there's no remedy

And now I feel at home
When there's no where to go
A room full of locked doors
In the eye of the storm
All these bodies adding up
I can't take anymore
If you're not fighting for yourself
What I'm doing it for?

I still believe there's a chance that you'll change
Don't say you're waste
Don't throw this away
But lately been losing my faith by the day
I call out to God he's got nothing to say
Why?

I'm dying
I'm trying
To push through but I'm
Six feet feet underneath

I'm lying
Denying

They're closing in on me
I'm sinking through the floor
I wish you that could see
How far that I would go

I'ma give you my all
But I know you won't change (go)
How many times do you gotta see tears on my face? (Go)
I'm drowning, I can't hold both of our weight (go)

(Go)
I'm drowning, I can't hold both of our weight (go)
Stop telling me there's no remedy
