

Watching a lifetime pass me by
Where's my passion gone?
Apathy has settled in
All my peers have lost their face
Taken by a slow decay
I'm sure they tried
But when I'm dreaming
Some thing's awoken in me
And thoughts I'd seemingly buried deep surface

Run while you can, now that I have had a taste
Someone help us
What have I become
I can't be the only one
On the Earth
In the Universe
With this affinity

I heard a cry the other day
"Show me some compassion"
Looking back into your face
I see the light in your eyes face
As we drift away
I'm saved by what scared me
Quickly

Run while you can, now that I have had a taste
Someone help us
What have I become
I can't be the only one
On the Earth
In the Universe
With this lust

In an oddly touching moment
The worst of times are set to end
Never knew I'd find this solace
And acceptance once again

You've been forsaken today
You've been forsaken and, oh what a price to pay
Have you lost your way
You've been forsaken today
You've been forsaken and, oh what a price to pay
You've been forsaken today
You've been forsaken and, oh what a price to pay
Let me lead the way
You've been forsaken and, oh what a price to pay
