

No One Understands

Pretty Vicious

(Is it easy?)

(Is it easy?)

Is it easy or is it worse?

But I'll try and make it, try and make it work

Are you bleeding or are you hurt?

Still I hide and getting shy from giving up

No one understands

No one gives a chance

To the poor kids living in this town

No one understands

No one understands me

Education is growing old

So I run tomorrow, run for little more

The young evening greets our coloured streets

An old guitar with missing strings

I can see it, I can see enough

No one understands

No one gives a chance

To the poor kids living in this town

No one understands

No one understands me

No one understands

No one gives a chance

To the poor kids living in this town

No one understands

No one understands me, no

No one understands

No one gives a chance

To the poor kids living in this town

No one understands

No one understands me

No one understands

No one gives a chance

To the poor kids living in this town

No one understands

No one understands me, me
