

Kill this vacancy I can't suppress
Insatiability fed with endless nothingness
Drown in the substance to subdue my worthlessness
Self-sabotage of my consciousness

Free from the quicksand, running from the death trap
Grace falls like grains through these shattered glass hands
The fleeting flesh of my corporeal half
Deceived me but I fought back

I'll claw my way out of the void, void
Fallen in dissonance, risen to kill the noise, noise
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis
And with this violent shift, I breathe pure existence
Void, void
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis

Looked up to the stars from the back of a hearse
Let the ash blow away, shed this black hole universe
On the physical plane, a disembodied voice
Destroyed then rejoined at the zero point

The only way through was head down, bend with the pressure
The ground gave out the weight of the world, broke my anchor's tether
My shrouded spirit descended, rebounded, and tragically mended
My primordial muse, stabbing the static

I'll claw my way out of the void, void
Fallen in dissonance, risen to kill the noise, noise
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis
And with this violent shift, I breathe pure existence
Void, void
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis

As a matter of relativity, I can't be Created or destroyed, so don't fuck with me
Slay
Can't be created or destroyed, clawed out of the void
Created or destroyed, clawed out of the void
Kill this vacancy I can't suppress
This vacancy I can't suppress

I'll claw my way out of the void, void
Fallen in dissonance, risen to kill the noise, noise
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis
And with this violent shift, I breathe pure existence
Void, void
Forged by the darkness, spark new genesis
