

KNOW YOU WILL

PRETTYMUCH

Oh, when it's all said and done
Open up, tell me how you feel
This ain't a hit and run, no
Baby you can take wheel
Baby we can make a deal
Level out the playing field
Say you won't , but I know you will
I know you will
I know you will

Whatever happened (So I mean it when I say)
No more distractions (Just give me peace of mind)
I'll show you passion (Show me you're gonna try)
But it's a practice
For here you are, are, are, are
Now you're gonna wake up callin' me
Why you gotta be callin' me tonight?
If you fallin, I'll be all in, yeah alright

Took you for granted, when I pushed you to the side
And now 2 AM is the only time you'll slide
Tell me you're staying baby, I'll let you decide
I know it's hard to measure, but I still think we're better

Oh, when it's all said and done
Open up, tell me how you feel
This ain't a hit and run, no
Baby you can take wheel
Baby we can make a deal
Level out the playing field
Say you won't, but I know you will
I know you will
I know you will

Yeah, carry out late
Aight, she got class but that ass is throwin' weight
Makin all these bands just throw 'em in her face
How that taste?
She wan' undress me in my room
Oh my goodness
She gon' need visine
When we smokin' on that lemon
She a bad lil' fiend
I might get it in a session (Session, session)
Hella baddies in my room, room, room, room, room
But somehow I want is you, you, you, you, you
Say you love me but you don't, don't Say you'll trust me but you won't, won't

Don't wanna leave you with nobody (in my room, in my room)
All alone, I'm in the lobby (lobby)
Can't decide, make up your mind, your mind (mind, mind)
I know it's hard to measure, but I still think we're better

Oh, when it's all said and done
Open up, tell me how you feel, oh
This ain't a hit and run, no

Baby you can take wheel
Baby we can make a deal
Level out the playing field
Say you won't , but I know you will
I know you will
I know you will
