

Back to Camelot

Pride of Lions

We're just two people out of synch
With what the world wants us to think
Caught in the web of so-called modern life
Feels like we're standing on the brink

There was a moment back in time
When love and honor dared to shone
I guess this world could be the place
We need to find

We're gonna pack up and leave on the run
Travel back to those days in the sun
When man were brave and honest
And honored their promise
In the spirit of all for one
And we'll hold up our hearts like a shield
As we lay down in those golden fields
Soon we'll be living in a land that time forgot
Going back to Camelot

Time has a way of losing track
We've lost our way and can't get back
Back to the innocence of Eden
The very essence that we lack

Still you and I we share a dream
The brand new makings of a team
We'll hold the torch of faith
For all the world to see

We're gonna pack up and leave on the run
Travel back to those days in the sun
When man were brave and honest
And honored their promise
In the spirit of all for one
And we'll hold up our hearts like a shield
As we lay down in those golden fields
Soon we'll be living in a land that time forgot
Going back to Camelot

Every road, every stream
Every bridge connects our dream
Over distance, every trial
Every minute, every mile
Leads us back, drives the force
Over life's determined course
To a time set apart

We're gonna pack up and leave on the run
Travel back to those days in the sun
When man were brave and honest
And honored their promise
In the spirit of all for one
And we'll hold up our hearts like a shield
And go walking through those golden fields
Soon we'll be living in a land that time forgot
And go back to Camelot
