

The Sun Will Find Us

Pridelands

Don't you feel like there might be a place to escape to?
Somewhere for you outside?
It's not like you really wanted this to happen
You didn't want this, right?
There's a place where the light fades that I can escape to
It takes me far away at night
Retreat when I see it coming, just to breathe and all I see is

Mothers leaving children hanging by their toes
Upside down, inside out
Tell me how can your eyes stay closed?
Poisonous hands that feed, depraving those who need you
We have defected from silence, from all we know
Missing children hanging by their toes
Upside down, inside out
Tongues tied, blackened eyes, deathly throes
Blindfolded, keep your finger pointed outwards, heathen
We remain deluded, misconstrued

I don't want to wait to be asphyxiated, no
I'd rather be suffering with you than on my own

Do you feel like you're suffocating
Under the mess you've made?
What was in the holy water you imbibed?
To me it all tastes the same

We need to hide
Because the sun will find us
We need to hide
Because the sun will find us here

I don't wanna wait to be asphyxiated
I would rather suffer here with you
I don't wanna wait to be asphyxiated
I would rather suffer

Mothers leaving children hanging by their toes
Upside down, inside out
Tell me how can your eyes stay closed?
Poisonous hands that feed, depraving those who need you
We have defected from silence, from all we know
Missing children hanging by their toes
Upside down, inside out
Tongues tied, blackened eyes, deathly throes
Blindfolded, keep your finger pointed outwards, heathen
We remain deluded, misconstrued
