

Sitting here in the morning
Remembering what my father said
Another day is dawning
And demons are touching me
The rain is falling
And washes away the tears
It's an early warning
The roar of my fears
In the dark

The jaded underworld
And shadows on the wall
When the night comes
You can hear the thunder's call
Empty spaces
I throw the shape of your heart
Standing on the bridge
And watch the river flow
In the dark

I can't stop thinking about you, it's burning my soul
I'm fighting my demons, I just wanna die here alone
I walk through the ruins of my life, there's nowhere to go
Bury my dreams, let me bleed, I'm alive and not gone

Red rain's falling down

Rise - infinity - forever
I'm walking through the night
There's not one bridge in sight
Rise - infinity - forever
My heart is on the line
Will there ever be a light

Now that I've found you I've followed the path in the dawn
Arctic fire and moonshine until Babylon
The prisoner inside me will run through the roar of the storm
Bullets can't hurt me, my heart died a long time ago

Red rain's falling down

Rise - infinity - forever
I'm walking through the night
There's not one bridge in sight
Rise - infinity - forever
My heart is on the line
Will there ever be a light

Sitting here in the morning
Remembering what my father said
Another day is dawning
And demons are touching me
The rain is falling
And washes away the tears
It's an early warning
In the dark

Rise - infinity - forever
I'm walking through the night
There's not one bridge in sight
Rise - infinity - forever
My heart is on the line

Rise - infinity - forever
I'm walking through the night
There's not one bridge in sight
Rise - infinity - forever
My heart is on the line
Will there ever be a light

In the dark infinity - forever
I'm walking through the night
