

Ursula Merger

Prince Daddy & The Hyena

I'm done with all these problems
That just sit and wait for me
Like dishes in the sink
And they just don't care 'bout
My courageous plans I got
Waiting for me

I been noticin' on these certain parts
Of my floor
Every single day
Feel it cave in a bit more

Well, maybe it's time
The planets decide
Who lives and dies

Not much has changed but
When things just stay the same
They get harder every day
It haunts me often
This doing nothing's
Catching up to me

I've been wandering on these weaker parts
Of Earth's floor
And every step I take
Feel it cave in a bit more

Well, maybe it's time
The planets decide
Who lives and dies

How's this
For not getting my hopes up?
Takin' in the good stuff
I bet I already know what you're gonna say
"Nothing's really out of the question, Kor
But when you gonna stop biting them nails?"
Yeah

(Nobody told me)
You're making this way too easy
(Nobody told me)
You're making this way too easy

Well, maybe it's time
The planets decide
