

Complicated

Princess Nokia

You waited all your life to say you fucking had me
Relent into your pleas and then I love you madly
You ruin everything and that's so fucking sad see
Because we had a chance and then you had to back seat
My childhood love I thought we'd never have to go there
I threw your stuff out and the contents that you had here
I saw your demons and I told my friends that I'm scared, scared

Falling apart
And I cannot take it
You make it complicated
The wreck you have created
I know don't even say it

Falling apart
And I cannot take it
You make it complicated
The wreck you have created
I know don't even say it

Guess you're just all the same
I have no one to blame
You'd think people would change
Based off all their past mistakes
Chances they take and take
Just to throw it in your face
You went to take your space
When what we had was great
You can't commit to the promise you made me
You can't commit to the life we were making
You needed time to reflect on the moment
I would have given you anything, that you wanted

Falling apart
And I cannot take it
You make it complicated
The wreck you have created
I know, don't even say it

Falling apart
And I cannot take it
You make it complicated
The wreck you have created
I know don't even say it

Why do we fall
Why do we fall
Why do we fall
Why do we fall
Why do we fall
Why do we fall