

It's Gonna Be Alright

Priscilla Ahn

Just walk away
I don't wanna be that girl again
That says goodbye to another broken hearted boyfriend But I'll let this slide 'cause you're different from all of them
Yeah

I need to learn when I've had enough
I know it's hard when the going gets tough but I don't want to stop this
So promise me it's gonna be alright

Someday you'll see what the hell is wrong with me
Sometimes my mind is floating in another foreign galaxy I'll leave behind all the tarot cards of an unknown prophecy
Oh

I need to learn when I've had enough
I know it's hard when the going gets tough but I don't want to stop this
So promise me it's gonna be alright

So feel the waters and tell me what you wanna do to me
'Cause I've got a piece of my mind saying, "It's alright"
It's gonna be alright

I'm going to try to stay as sane as I could possibly Big girls still cry so please be patient with me
You and I were a match made at a birthday party
