

Ever Since You Left

Ever since you left

I've been staying up thinkin' 'bout what went down
It was a hell of a heaven 'til it all went south
No one spending so many nights with the boys downtown
I should've seen it coming from a mile on out
If I was out in Vegas, I'da lost that bet
Boy ever since you left

I went right back to the bar
It hit me right there in the dark
I didn't start to fall apart like I thought I would
I'm feelin' better more together than I thought I could

I danced right beside the band
With the right drink in my right hand
Having a hell of a time with you off my mind
Everything's gone right
Ever since you left

Now I got a cute dog and I got a new truck
It's amazing what'll change when you don't give a
The rumor running 'round is that you want me back
Well you can kiss my ass 'cause when I heard that

I went right back to the bar
It hit me right there in the dark
I didn't start to fall apart like I thought I would
I'm feelin' better more together than I thought I could

I danced right beside the band
With the right drink in my right hand
Having a hell of a time with you off my mind
Everything's gone right
Ever since you left

Now I'm in the right place, right time
Sittin' in the right seat, right by Anybody else but you
I'll do me, you do you

I went right back to the bar
It hit me right there in the dark
I didn't start to fall apart like I thought I would
I'm feelin' better more together than I thought I could

I danced right beside the band
With the right drink in my right hand
Having a hell of a time with you off my mind
Everything's gone right
Ever since you left
