

Over

Priscilla Block

Wondering when it'll be this time
Knocking on my door for another try
You walk away, then you wander back
You want me when you wanna get on track
When you're sober, you said it was over

But saying over means coming back around
It ain't over, it's just the last time for right now

I know your every move
You push and pull, and drag me through
I think it's over, but it ain't over
Until it starts back over

Replay the tears I cried a thousand times
I'm tired, I'm tired of all your lies
You said you got it all together now
You found God in a church downtown
And you're closer to getting closure

But saying over means coming back around
It ain't over, it's just the last time for right now

I know your every move
You push and pull, and drag me through
I think it's over, but it ain't over
Until it starts back over (oh)

Oh, I want it to be over (over, oh, over, oh)
Oh, but I want you to stay over (over, oh, over, oh)
Oh, why can't we be over? (Over, over, over, oh)

Saying over (oh) means coming back around
It ain't over (it ain't over), it's just the last time for right now

I know your every move
You push and pull, and drag me through (you push and pull me through)
I think it's over, but it ain't over
Until it starts back over (over, over, over, yeah)

Oh, I want it to be over (I wan it to be over, yeah)
Oh, but I want you to stay over (want you to stay over, oh)
Oh, why can't we be over? (Why can't we be over?)

(Over over, over)
(Over) over, over, oh
(Over) over, over, oh
(Over) over, over, oh
