

Phoenix Rising

Pro-Pain

They're getting all in your face, coming down right at you from a higher place.

You're at a loss for words from the craziest shit that you ever heard.

So take a back seat quick, lay low, play dead, or face sick.

Pray that nobody bites, so play nice or else they just might.

The phoenix rises cause you kicked up the dust.

Now there's no surprises and no one to trust.

It's an inquisition, so think of the cost, the thought cremation, and the total loss, while they burn our souls on the cross.

Got to get to the truth.

Yeah, the whole truth.

Nothing but the fucking truth.

That's if we're to survive the inquisition of modern times.

In the words of the rich, "gotta save the palace and burn the w itch."

The false prophets await to render judgment for the church and state.

The phoenix rises from the ashes of us.

A modern maverick of utter disgust.

It's an inquisition and all faith is lost through blind ambition, just think of the cost as they burn our souls on the cross.

Phoenix Rising.
