

Kneel Before My Name

Profane Omen

I aint no saint to rape myself for human race, for end of days...
Go ahead and blast it away to make it torture for us all,
just step aside and realize we're ment to crawl...
Yeah, lets wipe it all away just for the kicks that we're insane,
time never dies, we're parasites, we build this hell...
Broken and twisted, that's the world you wanna see,
you try to tear it open for your own sake, can't you see,
because termination brings salvation, every day you see it,
it's your own world it burns you out.
Risin' from the bones you burnt, the pile grows all the time.
You saved yourself and no one else, now in the sun you'll dry.
Holding on for the love and that was never there,
I'm getting used to dig my way through pain, so
Kneel before my name!
Just look around, we're going down with flames.
All the lies and covered eyes, we're too contradictory!
Yeah, I give statement, because I can!
There ain't no goddamn promised lands so come on!
Broken and twisted, that's the world you wanna see,
does it turn you on or does it make you sweat, your history,
because termination brings salvation,
praise the race, yeah we did it to ourselves.
