

Matters of the Heart

Professor Green

You've got to be careful crossing lines
I wish you would look both ways before you cross my mind
But you just step out into traffic making cars crash
Giving me a heart attack
We went into blind we took a stab in the dark
Nothing really matters except matters of the heart

You say I'm hot and cold but that's duality
I ain't Hugh Grant this ain't Love Actually
What's fare in love and war and I ain't ending up a casualty
For labels and formality's I never say nothing flippant or casually
So if I say I love you then I mean it
But don't expect me to repeat it

And I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
All these thoughts running thru my head
I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
Got these thoughts running thru my head
Running thru my head

Don't be coming in my life trying to save me
Don't be going in my life trying to change me
Don't be coming in my life trying to fix me
The only need there'll ever be is this me

Listen when I speak it's what I say ain't nothing to misinterpret
Think about what you say and be careful how you word it
You'll get my trust the day you earn it
I'm calm but assertive is it something you can work with Cause this is real life baby it ain't a dream
Whatever you may have seen It will never to say a thing
And never expect me to change
Still in a game when everybody has got two phones and two names

And I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
All these thoughts running thru my head
I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
Got these thoughts running thru my head
Running thru my head

And I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
All these thoughts running thru my head
I think about you all the time
Your always on my mind
Got these thoughts running thru my head
Running thru my head

And I think about you all the time
