

Freebooter

Project 86

This oath was made to give me shelter from the waves
Winds rose, the ocean froze, found you dead asleep
You spoke and gave the order, the seas had to obey
Doubt grows and heaven knows why you're testing me
Just like you said you would

Take control before I take chances
Take the throne and all its romances
Trusting in the waves
Praying they won't break

Can't rest all my hopes on this uncertainty
One shot, I must believe the sea won't turn on me
I'll float the blue forever, this gun my only mate
Set sail until I slumber, pretend I'm not afraid
Just like you said I would

Take control before I take chances
Take the throne and all its romances
Trusting in the waves
Praying they won't break

Take control before I take chances
Take the throne's romances
Trusting in the waves
Praying they won't break

Faithless birth, reversing steam
Engine kill, dead lights breathe
Capsize every dream we could
Seas turn like you said they would

Faithless birth, reversing steam
Engine kill, dead lights breathe
Capsize every dream we could
Seas turn like you said they would

Faithless birth, reversing steam
Engine kill, dead lights breathe
Capsize every dream we could
Rogue seas turning on me
Just like you said they would

Take control before I take chances
Take the throne and all its romances
Trusting in the waves
Praying they won't break

Take control before I take chances
Take the throne's romances
Trusting in the waves
Praying they won't break

Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would

Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would

Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would
Just like you said I would