

Imaginary Me

Project 86

First it gives and then it takes away
We drain our cups till nothing here remains
Our souls hell bent on giving up
The ghost as we escape this host
There is no human power that could change

So ready to kill the dragons I've been chasing
So willing to end this life that I've been bleeding
There's nowhere left for me to run
I draw this line or I become
Imaginary
Imaginary me

We trace the artery and try to open it and in our minds
We find a way to inject hope and healing
A broken vein, a crimson spill, a bottom found, a broken will It's only when we glare at our delusion do we see

So ready to kill the dragons I've been chasing
So willing to end this life that I've been bleeding
There's nowhere left for me to run
I draw this line or I become
Imaginary
Imaginary me

By a power that's greater than me
At the bottom I'm finally free
By a power that's greater than me
At the bottom I'm finally free

So ready to kill the dragons I've been chasing
So willing to end the life that I've been bleeding

So ready to kill the dragons I've been chasing
So willing to end this life that I've been bleeding
There's nowhere left for me to run
I draw this line or I become
Imaginary
Imaginary me