Over Over

We have waited for so long To occur this day There are those who fly away to a distant place But I think I'll stay And I wouldn't have it any other way In this solace I see A light piercing the darkness Coming on the winds Of imagery When all I know is crumbling I am becoming something more than humanity could ever allow me to be I remember a day when My dreams of escape Seemed so far away Let's go back in time, you and I Initiation to your false empire You greased, you aimed And then you spit While I Once again pushed away my conscience Yet always, it seems I cannot fathom the plateau Without first the pit Against the goads there can be no pleading Because every thought reaps an action And for you, my former captor All the earthly wisdom and wealth Cannot erase your susceptibility To brutal mortality And the funny thing about justice Is that it always comes when you least expect it So friends it won't be long Seems I stole your smile, right from wrong So forever now we'll find Our peace inside this We'll find our solace in your silence And though I once desired your twisted sense of fame I know, I know that in myself I'm nothing Nothing Nothing Nothing but the words of the "meaningless" You have given me all I'll ever need The nerve, the greed, the lust, the lust, the lust, the lust for justice And now I will never rest Until the meaningless become your silence .And you're

Over Out! (4x) Now I mean to thank you once again, with this My, my, my goodbye kiss You broke my heart But something tells me that I won't, that I won't, and I won't miss it And on this very day And on this very hill While the heavens are hushed In anticipation, beckoning We'll have ourselves a reckoning And all of the oppressed will greet you And you're Over Over Over Out!
