

all I see is the world I know I am the center of everything no one is like me
not at all like me

no one ever ever was like me
no one ever thought like me no one ever felt like me

they must be different
they must be selfish
they must be ignorant
they must have something I didn't get when I was young they must have something I want?

there was no one ever who felt the truth like me no one ever lived a life like me no one ever felt this bad not at all this bad

they must have something I want?
