A Life In Pictures

Promise of Redemption

And if you only knew the truth
About how I miss you
All the time
Waking up without you by my side
Only seems to me the hardest part
Of my day
Besides laying down and dreaming about
The possibilities
Between life and happiness

And I've been thinking maybe
You should know
That I've been dreaming, dreaming
With my hands around your waist
I've never slept so soundly
And I've never dreamt these dreams
I've never been so fucking happy

There's this amazing shade of green
And brown in your eye
And when the light hits them
They shine on so bright
A sparkle in your smile
A scent to your clothes
And every time I'm near you
I wanna hold you so close
We're far from goodbye
Far from goodbye
Far from goodbye
Far from goodbye
