

From The Second I Wake Up

Promise of Redemption

Well, things have been getting kinda heavy these days,
Trying to figure out which road to take.
There's many decisions to be made,
And the only time I feel OK is when I'm in your arms

Dana, baby girl, you've got me missing you all day long,
From the second I wake up to the second my day is done.
With every breath that I take in,
Well I'll swear on every inch of my lungs,
I'm with you.

Yeah, I don't how to say this any other way,
But every little thing is going to be alright.
So, baby, don't you worry,
'Cause I have got complete faith that things will be OK.
It's just for now we sing.

So far away from home, everything's such a daze.
No, I don't want to go.
it hurts to drive away.
In the rearview mirror I can see the breaklights hit your face,
as you're waving me goodbye.

We all change our dreams as the days go by.
With feelings so hopeless,
We wonder why we leave,
The ones
We love.

One good thing about the road
Is that it opens up your eyes.
It will make you miss your home.
And everything that's right
In your heart will be as clear
As the North Carolina days.
Spent realizing who you are.

Don't ever change.
Don't ever change.
Don't ever change.
Don't ever change.
