Propaganda

Yeah, already
Everything I needed (Yeah), everything I needed (Yeah)
Everything I needed, already (Already)
Already, huh
Ayy, what them Houston boys say? (Already)
Everything I needed, every-already, mm
Ayy, what them bald heads say? (Already)
Huh, everything I needed, uh, everything I needed, ayy yo

Last year I went to Ethiopia, Israel and Palestine
Them sites can change your mind and put a new hope in ya
Imagination opened up, you ever thought you wasn't dope enough?
Things I saw had your boy chokin' up, but in a good way
I met a queen who two years ago was supposed to die from HIV
We talked the whole afternoon, she made us coffee
Traditional ceremony, it was beautiful, her kindness
The closest I ever felt to timeless, in my head
How I get to share a moment with a woman who should be dead?
And her grandkids braided my dreads
No cars or cameras, the moment was utopia
In a village in Ethiopia, huh
Everything I needed, everything I needed
Everything I needed, everything I needed
We spent some time learnin' from them crescent monas
They say nature made imperfect balance, contain its own solutions

Huh, everything I needed, uh, everything I needed

Manufacturin' friends, makin' up lies to impress strangers
Get that key light like, fix them angles, fix them angles
I'm from the City of Angels, guilty as charged, I get so charged
FOMO driven, that kind of livin' ain't lifegivin', it's hype-killin'
I like chillin', but I ain't willin' to slow down already
But everything I needed, hmm
Remember to mind you and your family, and if it's like the one I come from
I know they all dysfunctional, but you come from somethin', bruh
Air inside your lungs, and particles of stardust
Let me kill your wander lust, let me kill your wander lust
Everything you needed, already
It's right here, it's right now
