

We Don't know Impossible

Propaganda

Yeah, I'm off the five loaves two fish
Tackling the dreams with my two fists
I'm grappling with all of our to do lists
I'm mapping out the plans for my two kids
Possible call then I'm like new number, who this
I'm walking with y'all among the dreams of the cruises
My in law's Surname
They never thought their daughter would have doctored with her name
And then when the dawn came
Told the cold nights I was playing that long game
When the pain bites I'm like I can go all day
I know it's a strange life ain't worried what y'all say
Wherever the ball lay, we parlay

Look up its the right sound
Venus in the night sky
Screaming through the skyline

Maybe there's enough food to go around
Enough homes for the homeless in your town
Of course that's ridiculous (that's ridiculous)
Why would you even mention it
Posterous, unthinkable, obvious, impossible
Prop, dropping knowledge and it's unrealistic
Laws of physics evident will never get past them
A world without war imagine, imagine
Imagine shooting a beam from a thing you carryying
In your pockets are out of space
Imagine being strapped in a chair that's in the air
Traveling at mock speed, mocking the laws of gravity
But y'all stay mad at me

Look up its the right sound
Venus in the night sky
Screaming through the skyline
Look up its the right sound
Venus in the night sky
Screaming through the skyline
We don't know Impossible

People over profit that's ridiculous
Enough to go around
Don't even mention it
A world without boarders
You silly kid
Y'all ain't even listening
Imagination what's wrong with yours
Generation, the world is yours
Limitless, you decide
But whatever you do, make it fly

Look up its the right sound
Venus in the night sky (Make it fly)
Screaming through the skyline
We don't know Impossible (Make it fly)
Look up its the right sound
Venus in the night sky (Make it fly)

Screaming through the skyline
We don't know Impossible
