

Terra Mater

Protector

Treating our planet earth with ruthless disrespect
Strangling it with garbage showing nothing but neglect
Poisoning the atmosphere with nuclear waste and gas
Do you think our Mother Earth will let all these things pass?

When the end comes, where will you go?
When you have to battle fire, ice and snow
Storms are howling, ripping you apart
No roof above your head and panic in your heart

A wall of water coming down on you
A sun that burns 'til you're cooked through'n'through
A hurricane that swallows houses, cities, nations
A nature that has lost it's indulgence and it's patience

Floods and earthquakes - Volcanic eruptions
Storms and fire - Nature hitting back

When the end comes, where will you go?
When you have to battle fire, ice and snow
Storms are howling, ripping you apart
No roof above your head and panic in your heart
