

The Stalker

Provoker

I saw you driving today
You were going past the speed limit
I tried to keep up with you
But you were going to fast
You had a lead foot
But that didn't stop me from trying

I saw your car
Yesterday and I drove so far
I could hardly see you for miles

When I finally caught up to you
You nearly ran me off the road
That wasn't very nice
I'm going to have to punish you for that
You know
I hate to do it
But something has to be done
To correct this behavior

I stole your car
Yesterday and I drove so far
I could hardly hold off my smile
